I. INTRODUCTION

The District of Columbia, Office of the Deputy Mayor for Planning and Economic Development, on behalf of the District of Columbia Government (The “District”), and pursuant to its authority under the DC Official Code § 1-2207.1 and Mayor’s Order 99-62, hereby request proposals for the disposition and adaptive reuse of the Franklin School Building (the “Property”), located at 925 13th Street, N.W. in downtown Washington, D.C.

The Government of the District of Columbia (The “District”) invites all interested parties to respond to this Request for Proposals (RFP) for the renovation and adaptive reuse of the historic Franklin School Building located at 13th & K Streets, NW on Franklin Square in the heart of Downtown Washington. The Franklin School Building is a National Historic Landmark constructed in 1869, and is an important part of the District’s heritage. It was as one the first flagship public schools demonstrating the District’s commitment to public education. It also received several international design awards, and it served as a location for Alexander Graham Bell’s “photophone” experiments – an early form of sound transmission through light.

Vacant since 1989, ownership of the building was transferred from the DC Public Schools to the Government of the District of Columbia by the Financial Control Board in March of 2000. The District’s Downtown Action Agenda (see below) identified the building as a key opportunity site. The District is therefore interested in seeing the building reused to help fulfill the vision of Downtown as a vibrant, active destination.

The District conducted both architectural and economic studies in preparation for disposition. These studies can be found at www.dcbiz.dc.gov. These studies were for comparative analysis purposes only. Development teams should independently confirm any site information found in them or in this document.

A. Purpose

The Office of the Deputy Mayor for Planning & Economic Development is issuing this RFP to select a development team interested in the adaptive reuse of one of the District’s finest historic structures. Qualified development teams are invited to submit a response that describes their proposed use or uses, their team, and prior experience with similar historic properties.

B. Current Use

The Franklin School is currently vacant for the majority of the year. During the 2002-2003 hypothermia season, which generally lasts from November 1 to March 31, the school was used as an emergency shelter, which means that the building is open to homeless individuals when the temperature or wind chill drops to 32 degrees Fahrenheit. The District Government intends to use the school as an emergency shelter during the 2003-2004 hypothermia season as well.

The District does not intend to dispose of the Franklin School until alternative replacement emergency shelter beds are identified for the future.

C. Council Approval

Once the District has negotiated an Exclusive Rights Agreement (ERA) with the selected developer, the District will submit the ERA to the Council for its final approval, pursuant to its authority under the DC Official Code Section 10-801 et seq.

II. DOWNTOWN CONTEXT

A. Downtown Action Agenda

Released in November 2000 by Mayor Williams, the Downtown Action Agenda outlined the steps necessary to fulfill the District's vision for downtown that was first articulated in 1982. Many of the steps such as Zoning and Tax Incentives for Housing, an Area-Wide TIF District, and the Existing Convention Center Redevelopment are now completed or well under way. Results include 2,300 units of housing under construction, with over a thousand more in predevelopment, TIF financing of the recently opened Spy Museum, and one new live theatre stage under construction and two more planned.

Aerial view of Franklin Square (1999).

One of the main strategies of the Downtown Action Agenda is to capitalize on key publicly owned sites for the development of preferred uses. While the Agenda identifies the Franklin School as an opportunity to support the arts in downtown, the District recognizes that institutions of higher education would be compatible with the unique nature of the building.

B. Downtown & Franklin Square

Downtown Washington DC has rarely seen such development activity as that witnessed over the past several years. From the West End down K Street, a major east-west thoroughfare, to Mt. Vernon Square and beyond to Union Station, Downtown is fulfilling its role as the center of commerce, culture and living for the District and the region. From the new office buildings to the growing residential neighborhood to the numerous centers of culture such as Kennedy Center or the proposed Artist's Walk in the Mt Vernon Triangle, Downtown is on its way toward fulfilling the vibrant active destination that D.C. always envisioned.

Franklin Square (2001).

Almost at the heart of Downtown is Franklin Square. Named for Benjamin Franklin, it is the largest of L'Enfant's downtown parks. Located on K Street, one of downtown's major axes, its excellent tree canopy and fountain creates an inviting environment for pedestrians.

The surrounding streets are primarily dominated by office buildings, but also offer nearby metro access at the McPherson Square and Metro Center stations, six hotels, and the National Museum for Women in the Arts. Private development either recently completed or under construction, includes 984 hotel rooms, 425 planned residential units and 1,200,000 square feet of office. In addition several large-scale public/private redevelopment efforts are underway nearby including:

- The New Convention center – 2.3 million square feet of convention space located at Mt Vernon Square three blocks away is complete with the first convention held in April of 2003;
- Former Convention Center Site Redevelopment – an RFQ for a Master Developer has been issued for 600 to 900 residential units, street oriented retail and possibly civic and cultural uses; and

- Gallery Place at Chinatown – a large TIF financed, mixed-use development for 238,000 square feet of office, 192 housing units, 202,000 square feet of retail and 14 movie theatre screens is currently under construction.

While the square is active during the daytime, activity during the evening drops off dramatically.

III. SITE & BUILDING PROFILE

The Property is identified by Tax Lot 808 of Square 285 with a total land area of 14,938 square feet in size. The building's gross square footage is roughly 51,000 square feet, however due to the nature of the building's interior layout, useable square footage may be considerably less and will depend on a particular user's program and the creativity with which the adaptive reuse is approached. The District's architectural consultant (study available online at www.dcbiz.dc.gov) determined that the leaseable square footage varied depending on the specific use. The District's economic consultant used 30,000 square feet to compare the relative value of different uses. This figure is for comparative analysis only and development teams should not consider it to be the building's development potential. The full potential can only be maximized by a creative adaptive reuse scheme. The need to use some of the rear yard to provide a modern core facility is expected. A rear yard on the east side of the building is roughly 4,736 square feet in size.

Franklin School Building.

The Property is zoned DD/C-4, which is defined as high-density business and retail heart of the District and allows for a mix of employment, retail, office, residential, cultural and entertainment centers. The DD Overlay contains requirements and incentives for culture, retail, housing and historic preservation. The zoning permits by right development of 10.0 FAR with heights of up to 130. The historic status of the building essentially limits reuse to the building's existing envelope.

Both the exterior and interior of the building are designated historic under the District's Historic Preservation Act. This requires that any and all changes made to the building be approved by the District's Historic Preservation Review Board. The building is also a National Historic Landmark (one of four owned by the District).

IV. PREFERRED BUILDING USES

Designed by Adolph Cluss, who also designed the Smithsonian's Arts and Industries building, the Franklin School Building is an important part of the District's civic heritage. It represents not only the city's first commitment to public education, but is one of the earliest examples of such commitment from across the nation. The building's highly visible and prominent location creates a tremendous potential to impact the Franklin Square.

Therefore, the District is highly interested in receiving submissions proposing cultural or institutions of higher education. The District believes the Franklin School Building is a premier site for these types of prestigious institutions. The District will also consider submissions proposing housing or a mix of uses that include cultural, higher education, commercial and housing components.

Use of the building should help make Franklin Square a vibrant active destination. The intended program should attract visitors and pedestrian traffic to Franklin Square throughout the day and the evening in order to make the Property an integral part of the square. In addition, commitments to programs directed toward District residents are encouraged.

V. DEVELOPMENT REQUIREMENTS

A. Historic Preservation

Maintaining the historic status of the building is a major concern to the District. Potential reuses should not affect the building's National Landmark status and must comply with all local requirements. The National Landmark Application and the Historic Preservation Review Board's decision memos for both the interior and exterior designation are included in the developer's kit.

1. External

The following are some of the possible external modifications that could receive staff support from the Historic Preservation Office upon submission of plans for review to the Historic Preservation Review Board.

- Construction of elevator, stair and other modern infrastructure requirements on the eastern wall of the building. These additions should be away from K Street and impact to the external structure should be kept to a minimum. Design and materials used should be compatible with that of the existing structure.
- The rear courtyard may be decked to the K Street level to provide limited parking and/or other necessary loading space. A suitable landscape design for the K Street level of the deck is highly encouraged.

Franklin School rear courtyard.

2. Internal

The recent local historic designation identified several interior features of primary importance. Consistent with this designation, strongly recommended treatments include, but are not limited to the following:

- The Great Hall and its musician's gallery should remain intact, accessible, and undivided by partitions. Proposals not in keeping with this requirement shall be deemed unresponsive. (Mural restoration is encouraged but not required).

Existing 1st Floor Plan (dimensions are approximate and should be verified by development teams).

- The Grand Stairways and stair halls should be retained and should not be enclosed by opaque or translucent materials. If needed clear glass partitions should be used to maintain the sense of space.
- The arched doorways and revolving transoms should be maintained and incorporated in the building's reuse.
- Wainscoting and metal work should be restored and reused where feasible.
- The pressed tin ceilings on the second story of the south end shall be restored and retained if feasible.

The District recognizes that adaptive reuse of historic structures requires choices between feasibility and historic preservation; submissions that strike the appropriate balance between these concerns will be considered favorably. Overall, maintenance of the building's historic status is considered to be vital.

All construction plans will be subject to the review of the Historic Preservation Review Board and must meet applicable building codes. Applicants must pursue waivers where necessary.

3. Great Hall

Due to the historic/civic nature of the building's past, the District requires that the Great Hall be made accessible to the public for scheduled meetings and events. Proposals not in keeping with this requirement shall be deemed unresponsive. Proposals providing additional public access for programmed use or visitor space are encouraged.

B. Financial Requirements

The District shall maintain long-term control of the property via a long-term ground lease. Offers for fee simple purchase will be deemed unresponsive and will not be accepted. Preliminary business terms for the ground lease are the following:

- Sixty-year ground lease. Initial lease of ten years, to be followed by five (5), ten-year options. The District shall retain the option to extend the lease after the initial sixty years.
- The Leaseholder must provide some form of adequate security committing to operations for the initial ten years of the lease.
- Any substantial change from the selected program shall break the terms of the lease. The District reserves the right to reappraise it to the highest and best use, and/or take other suitable action.
- 20th year reappraisal of the ground lease. The increase in ground rent shall be proportional to the increase in appraised value from the time of the original disposition.
- Annual CPI adjustments after the 10th year.

All final terms shall be negotiated and set down in the Exclusive Rights Agreement. Section Execution of disposition agreement shall not occur until all necessary development approvals have been received, including, but not limited to, Historic Preservation Review Board, Zoning Commission, Board of Zoning Adjustment, and the District's financial commitment. This must occur within the submission's proposed development schedule. Should the selected team fail to meet the scheduled milestones laid out in their proposed development schedule, the District reserves the right to end all negotiations, keep the performance deposit and re-advertise the Property at a later date.

C. District Incentives

In order to achieve these requirements the District encourages development teams to investigate potential available development incentives. Tax-exempt revenue bond financing is available to qualified non-profit organizations.

Selection of a development team does not constitute a funding commitment from the District's bond program.

Undue reliance on limited resources, such as low-income housing tax credits, housing finance bonds or other District subsidies, shall affect a submission's evaluation score under financial compensation.

Beyond direct subsidies, development teams should investigate available zoning incentives for preferred uses, such as Transferable Development Rights and Combined Lot Development found in Chapter 17 of the District of Columbia Zoning Regulations.

D. Affordable Housing Requirement

If the proposal includes residential housing, then at least 20 percent of the rentable square footage must be affordable to families who earn at least 80 percent of the Washington D.C. Area Median Income, as periodically defined by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. Proposers are encouraged to provide a mixture of family type units (e.g. two and three bedroom units). The mixture of affordable unit types must be proportional to the mixture of units in the overall development. Proposers are also encouraged to provide additional units to families earning between 80 percent and 120 percent of AMI.

V. EVALUATION CRITERIA

The District will review and grade the submissions on a scale of 95 points, and at its sole discretion, it will select one of the proposals. Definitions of these evaluation criteria follow.

A. Qualifications, Experience & Financial Capability (25 points)

The Qualifications and Experience of team members as demonstrated by the development team members' prior experience in working with similar historic buildings; public/private developments; the ability to raise debt and equity capital for developments, in the District of Columbia or other comparable areas. Included in this is the financial standing of the end user. Proposals will be evaluated based on the financial strength and stability of the end user and its demonstrated ability to maintain operations and lease payments for at least ten years.

B. Financial Compensation (15 points)

The proposing team's financial offer for ground lease will be evaluated in Present Value terms of the first ten (10) years based on a set discount rate of 10%. Included in the evaluation is the payment of real estate taxes or the commitment to payments in lieu of taxes. Dependence on limited public subsidies will be included in the evaluation. Scoring will be proportional to the highest bidder.

C. Development Program/User (25 points)

Points for this category are awarded based on the proposed program/users' ability to excel in achieving the goal articulated in the section IV. Preferred Building Uses. The quality of the proposal will be judged by performance measurements, such as: estimated visitor foot traffic; hours of operation; and the extent of public access to the building, including the amount time the Great Hall will be available. Therefore, the proposal that generates greatest amount of activity will receive the greatest amount of points.

D. Design & Historic Preservation (15 points)

The Property is a unique, challenging opportunity. The District seeks high degree of creativity with regards to the way adaptive reuse affects the historic preservation concerns for this site. The quality of the proposal shall be judged by the degree of creativity and sensitivity to the preservation concerns discussed in HPRB's decision memos and National Historic Landmark found in the developer's kit.

E. Local, Small, and Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (LSDBE) Participation and Employment Opportunities and Community Outreach Plan (15 points)

The selected team must evidence the participation of Local, Small, and Disadvantaged Business Enterprises in the project team. Proposals will also be evaluated on the thoroughness of their community outreach plan. The quality of the proposal shall be judged by the extent of LSDBE involvement and the community outreach plan.

VI. SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS AND SELECTION PROCEDURES

A. Submission Requirements

A deposit of $100,000, two originals and 15 printed copies of the proposal must be submitted by 4:00 PM on October 31, 2003 to:

The District reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to reject any proposal it deems incomplete or unresponsive to the submission requirements. The District also reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to reject all proposals and re-advertise at a later date. If the submission is deemed incomplete, that submission deposit will be refunded in full. In the event that the District determines that it should reject all submissions, all deposits will be refunded.

Multiple development programs and financial offers by the same principal Development Team will be considered a single submission; each option should be included in the submission. Team members may participate in submissions from more than one Bidder.

The District reserves the right to reevaluate the proposed changes and eliminate it from further consideration. The District will require similar notification and approval rights following award. The interim Exclusive Right Agreement, the Land Disposition Agreement or the Ground Lease will include similar provisions.

If at any time after the District's award, but prior to entering into a Ground Lease or Land Disposition Agreement, the bidder should decide not to proceed, the bidder must notify the District and give the reasons for its decision. A successful bidder wishing to withdraw may be subject to the loss of part or all of the monetary security posted at the time of award.
